From the State Director

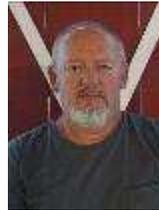

Angie Shaneyfelt

Huge Thank You to Brenda Simmons & James for hosting the Spring campout. Spring Mills State Park was a wonderful location and the weather was perfect. What a fun and great weekend to catch up with our FCRV Family!

Next on our State Camping schedule will be the Summer camp out. It is earlier than usual this year, June 18-19-20. The Campfire Agitators have offered to host at the Wells County Fairgrounds in Bluffton, Indiana. They are doing a 4-H theme weekend, so look elsewhere in the Chatter for more information on that.

Campvention is a go! Get your registration in to attend Elkhorn, Wisconsin the week of July 11-16th. At campvention they will be collecting donations for a nearby food pantry if you would to give a non-perishable food/donation. Also, they would like each state to make a basket representing their state as giveaways. I will be putting together a basket, you have any contributions from your area of Indiana, please pass them along to me to be included in the basket. Maybe anything made in Indiana, a Pacers or IU Shirt. If you have ideas, please let me know at the June campout. Also, at Campvention, for Monday evening entertainment will be Murder at the Crime Scene Investigation Conference. This will be a murder mystery play starring our very own FCRV members. Come and watch the play and figure out Who the murderer is! Bound to be lots of laughs and there will be 2 treats served during the play.

Camping season started with the Spring Campout having been held at Spring Mill State Park. Thanks to Brenda Simmons and James for a wonder week-end.

I hope you are looking forward to the Summer camp out in June! Look elsewhere in the Chatter for more information on that camp out that is being hosted by the Campfire Agitators.

A new sound board has been ordered for the state association, and we are still looking into speakers.

We are ordering Indiana shirts to wear at Nationals (Campvention), to support Macey at her hospitality on Monday evening. We would hope you also wear them to Regional in Shipshewana to recognize our state. If you would like to order, please email Angie at angieshaneyfelt@hotmail.com and let her know the quantity and size.

Angie is working on the Regional schedule and may be asking for help, be prepared to say yes! Fall Invitational is being planned and the theme is "Come Roam with the Bison". Watch for more details on that September camp out as it gets closer.

Until next time,
Ed Shaneyfelt

The May campout at Spring Mill was definitely one to remember. One highlight of the weekend was when Jessica, Angie, Dena, James, Scotty, and I all went hiking to explore caves. One our adventure we went to two caves and the village. Not everyone knew exactly what they were getting themselves into when they trusted me to lead the hike, but I think it's safe to say everyone had fun!

Another highlight was on Saturday night when my mom, Angie, Dena, Brenda, James, and I played a new version of Uno taught by Brenda and James. (Also Scotty subbed in when needed.) In this version of Uno you played with teams so if you're stuck instead of drawing a card you can ask your partner for help. It was a lot of fun until you end up drawing 16 cards!

After a long pandemic, getting to enjoy the company of my camping family was very exciting. I hope that everyone in attendance can agree!

CHAPLAIN'S CORNER

By Harlan Nigh

Hello Y'all.

It's my understanding that the season has started well. Thank you to Melvin Coy for filling in for me. As Polly and I help Bernice's recovery. I also want to thank our Camping family for the Prayers and support to encourage her healing.

Please raise Christine and Richard Lucas in Prayer as she's entering her cancer treatments.

I say this, if any of our family has a prayer request, to send me a text and, if you like. I'll and put it the Chatter. Paul wrote "As Believers gather in the Lord's Name, blessings Flow" (That's not a quote, just what I have learned in my reading).

Until we share another fire & fellowship.,

Harlan Nigh

Hi there,

I would like to Thank Brenda Simmons for putting on a fun-filled weekend at Spring Mill State Park. From Friday night's hospitality to Sunday's church service.

We did a C.A.M.P. walk, and there were 16 people that walked with us on Saturday morning. We walked up to the camp store and back to our campers. On the way back we had to check out some campers that caught our eye, and we got to meet some new people while doing so.

And with that said there were also some tabs and plastic caps collected. The caps are already being put to use in making a bench.

So that is all for now. Keep collecting!

Membership News

Indiana State Association FCRV
Membership Director
Denise Weiss

Greetings from Richmond.

I am really excited that the membership program is being revamped and is going to be unveiled at Campvention. Be on the lookout for more information.

We have a new member to the Happy Glampers Chapter, Drew Godby. Please welcome him into our FCRV family.

We also have two new 4 footed members Sophie Davis and Lily Coletrane (Weiss). For those of you who were at the Fall Invitational, you might remember that Molly and Roscoe were married by our Indiana State Chaplin Harlan Nigh. Sophie and Lily are a result of that marriage. Yes, the camping gene is being passed down to another generation. Technically, Molly's parents were avid campers as well so that makes Sophie and Lily third generation campers.

We were finally able to present the door prize from last year's membership drive. Nancy and Jeff Craig's name was drawn at the Summer Campout at Summit Lake but due to unforeseen circumstances we were not able to meet up with the Craigs until April. We presented them with the blanket handmade and donated by Pat Cohee. Thank you Pat. Nancy said it would be perfect in their new 5th wheel. She used it that night as it was a chilly (ok, Christopher said it was downright cold) night at the campground.

Remember be on the lookout---🐞 for more information about the new membership program. Until next time Happy Camping!

DASAT MOMENT

BICYCLE SAFETY

This information is taken from the regular newsletter of the Hoosier Motor Club (AAA), whose article came from NHTSA.gov. (National Highway Traffic Safety Association)

Bicycles can be considered symbols of independence and freedom. They are also fun, providing riders a "greener," healthier form of transportation.

Bicycles are also considered vehicles, and riders have a responsibility each time they take to the road. Even if you are an experienced cyclist, it is a good idea to review the fundamentals periodically.

HAVE THE CORRECT SIZE BIKE

1. Check the Bicycle Frame Size

- * Stand over the bike and ensure there is clearance between you and the top tube:
 - Road bikes: 1" clearance
 - Mountain bikes: 3-5"
- * Size Chart: Typical Bike Fits for Children
 - Under 6 years*: 12" – 16" wheel
 - 6 to 9 years*: 20" wheel
 - 9 to 11 years: 24" wheel
 - 12 and older: 26" or larger wheel

*Children age 6 and under need close supervision – even on quiet neighborhood streets.

2. Adjust the Bicycle Seat Height

- * The rider should be able to sit on the seat and balance the bicycle with both feet just touching the ground.
- * The bicycle should not lean to one side.
- * While seated, the rider's leg should be slightly bent when the pedal is at its lowest rotation. Seats that are adjusted too low can cause knee pain. Seats set too high can cause hamstring pain.
- * The seat may need to be adjusted to find the right fit. If the seat is in the lowest position and the rider cannot touch both feet to the ground, the bicycle is too large.

When buying a bike for a child, avoid buying a large bicycle for your child to "grow into."

3. Check Positioning of Your Bicycle Handlebars

- * Position standard handlebars above the center bar, with grips at or above the seat level.
- * Position dropped handlebars (below the center bar) so the upper part of the bar is level with, or slightly below, the seat and tilted down.
- * Adjust your handlebars so the 70% of your weight is on the seat, and 30% of your weight is on the handlebars.

BICYCLE HELMETS

Head injuries are the leading cause of death in 80% of bicycle crashes.

- * Select a helmet approved by the Consumer Product Safety Commission (CPSC), as noted on a sticker inside the helmet.
- * Helmets should sit level and low on the forehead, so the wearer can see the front of the helmet when they look up.
- * If the helmet is slightly large, insert extra padding provided with the helmet and adjust the fit ring on the back of the helmet.
- * Straps should be adjusted to center the buckle under the chin, with side straps forming a "V" shape under and slightly in front of the ears. To check for a snug fit, you should only be able to fit one or two fingers under the chin strap. When your chin strap is buckled, open your mouth and feel the helmet press firmly against the top of your head.
- * Be a good role model! Wear your helmet on every single ride. According to Safe Kids USA, a child who rides with an adult wearing a helmet is more likely to wear one, too.

WHEN TO REPLACE A HELMET

- * If you are involved in a crash.
- * If the helmet is dropped hard enough to crack the foam.
- * If the outside is made of just foam or cloth instead of plastic.
- * If it lacks a SPSC, ASTM, or Snell sticker inside
- * If you are unable to adjust it to fit correctly.

RULES OF THE ROAD

Bicycles in many States are considered vehicles, and cyclists have the same rights and the same responsibilities to follow the rules of the road as motorists. When riding, always:

- * Go With the Traffic Flow. Ride on the right in the same direction as other vehicles. Go with the flow – not against it.
- * Obey All Traffic Laws. A bicycle is a vehicle

and you are a driver. When you ride in the street, obey all traffic signs, signals, and lane markings.

- * Yield to Traffic When Appropriate. Almost always, drivers on a smaller road must yield (wait) for traffic on a major or larger road. If there is no stop sign or traffic signal and you are coming from a smaller roadway (out of a driveway, from a sidewalk, a bike path, etc.), you must slow down and look to see if the way is clear before proceeding. This also means yielding to pedestrians who have already entered a crosswalk.
- * Be Predictable. Ride in a straight line, not in and out of cars. Signal your moves to others.
- * Always stay Alert. Use your eyes AND ears. Watch out for potholes, cracks, wet leaves, storm grates, railroad tracks, or anything that could make you lose control of your bike. You need your ears to hear traffic and avoid dangerous situations; do not wear a headset when you ride.
- * Look Before Turning. When turning left or right, always look behind you for a break in traffic, then signal before making the turn. Watch for left- or right-turning traffic.
- * Watch for Parked Cars. Ride far enough out from the curb to avoid the unexpected from parked cars (like doors opening, or cars pulling out).

SIDEWALK VERSUS STREET RIDING

The safest place for bicycle riding is on the street, where bicycles are expected to follow the same rules of the road as motorists and ride in the same direction.

Children less than 10 years old, however, are not mature enough to make the decisions necessary to safely ride in the street. Children less than 10 years old are better off riding on the sidewalk.

For anyone riding on a sidewalk:

- * Check the law in your state or jurisdiction to make sure sidewalk-riding is allowed.
- * Watch for vehicles coming out of or turning into driveways.
- * Stop at corners of sidewalks and streets to look for cars and to make sure the drivers see you before crossing.
- * Enter a street at a corner and not between parked cars. Alert pedestrians that you are nearby saying, "Excuse me," or, "Passing on your left," or use a bell or horn.

Grilling Safety

Recently, in Indianapolis, a man and his infant daughter narrowly escaped disaster when their propane grill exploded as he was lighting it, catching the deck where they were grilling on fire and melting the plastic swing that the child was rescued from within seconds of the conflagration. The exact cause of the explosion was not immediately identified, but the grill itself was blown apart. This prompted the Indianapolis Fire Department to issue some precautionary recommendations prior to the Memorial Day official start of grilling season.

1. Take steps now to ensure that your grill is in good working order.
2. Set up your grill in a well ventilated outdoor area, away from the main structure and with no less than a 3 foot perimeter from all combustibles.
3. Never leave a hot grill unattended.
4. For gas grills, when changing out the propane tank, make sure that you get a solid connection on the threads as you tighten them and that the on/off valve is turned all the way off when finished.
5. Always open the grill before turning on the propane to prevent a dangerous buildup of propane within the closed grill.
6. Do not light a closed grill.
7. If using a charcoal grill, allow the briquets and ashes to completely cool in the metal container before removing them for trash. Do not put them in a paper bag or plastic container until they are well cooled and better yet, doused with copious amounts of water. (Too often we see fires that start in a garage or on a wooden back deck after briquets or ashes are removed too quickly from the metal container and placed in the trash. Flare ups with a rekindle can occur even after an overnight cooling period, so the water is a second safety measure that will help prevent an accidental fire.)
