A Message from the National Office...

Dear FCRV Chapters

In November, your regional and state directors met with the board of trustees and national office to go over our plan of pushing FCRV into the 21st century in communications and online spaces. It is imperative we take these simple steps to adapt to how the camping world has and is changing around us. FCRV must push into these prominent platforms to remain visible and relevant to current and potential members. A viable website and social media presence will enhance our ability to gain new members and the commercial partnerships that help our organization fund itself.

The first step in this process was having our Chapters create email accounts so we can have fast, easy, direct contact with them at the national level. We've had over 100 of our chapters create emails to help reach this goal and we thank all that have already taken this first step.

The next step is building a calendar of events, followed by recaps from these events that we can show on our website and social media for advertising. It's very important that FCRV understand the need to better show what we do as an organization, and your help is needed.

If you have not recently been to www.fcrv.org, go look at the home page to see how much it has changed. Shown there is a small sample of events already submitted and the recaps for those events.

The national office recently took control of FCRV social media. All platforms have been rebranded with graphic elements from our logo formatted to fit each social platform. You can find us on Facebook, Twitter, Instagram and Youtube @OfficialFCRV. This advertising process is playing out on all those platforms as well.

If we can get everyone on board with these simple steps, FCRV will be advertising over 500+ events per year. Our online footprint and connection to other camping related entities will massively grow at a rapid pace and we will start to get recognized as the powerhouse in the camping world we are. Initially this process will seem strange and may be frustrating, but we promise, the more you do it, the easier it will get. Once you make it a habit to submit events, you will learn how easy it is and we will all start to see the benefits as our organization grows. In fact, we are already seeing new members join through internet searches in just the last 3 months since we went live with a new website and social media push.

We would like any events both past and present for 2022 AND 2021 that you can submit. We still want to build out the event calendar for 2021 for visibility. We know that time has passed but it's still important to have a history of what we recently did. Also, we are entering our slower winter-time, and submitting older events and recaps, will give you practice with how this whole process works and make it easier for you to do in the future.

Carl Fromholzer
National Office - Website Developer

Since you have read the above article, I ask of all members...please go to the FCRV website. I have entered all of this year's campouts on the schedule. If you see any corrections or updates that need made as your campout gets closer, please let me know. Also, after your campout send me a reminder and I'll submit pictures (from our wonderful Chatter editor) as a summary of events. It takes a village, so let's be the best village there is and all work together to help grow our organization!

Angie Shaneyfelt

It's a New Year! I hope that everyone had a wonderful holiday season and are staying healthy in this crazy pandemic that may never end. As I'm typing this, we have 2-3 inches of snow on the ground, so we're not ready to get camping yet in Indiana. But it will be here before we know it! It is so nice to have our camping schedule filled for the year.

Make sure you have all the dates on your calendar and are getting your reservations taken care of. I know many have probably contacted Friends O' Mine campground for our spring campout (wish I could go). I have tried myself to reserve Cornerstone, they are re-doing their website and the map isn't available for me to look at to reserve our spot. Maybe this week I'll get that done. As far as the Amishville campout this fall, Deena Felver will let us know when they are starting to reserve spots for this year. We do have the "circle" reserved for FCRV.

On the front page of this edition of the Chatter, you will find an article written by Carl Fromholzer, Jr regarding the updated FCRV website. I have added a paragraph at the bottom of that article, please let me know of any update/changes/corrections that need done to represent Indiana on the calendar. Also, remind me to submit pictures and finalize the campout after it is over. People reviewing our website need to see now much fun we have at our campouts!

Also attached to this Chatter is a registration form for the Regional Campout this year that will be in Hills-

Hope everyone had a great Christmas and a start to a joyous New Year.

Now it is time to get ready to get that someone special something for Valentine's day. Remember guys chocolates, flowers, or jewelry is a good choice.

The camping season is just around the corner and our schedule for the year is full. Make your reservations where we are camping this year so the host know how many are coming. Look for that information elsewhere in the chatter.

It is also election year so let Mark Shaneyfelt know if you are interested in running for an office.

On a side note, our region is hosting Nationals in 2023 so be ready to volunteer if asked to do a job. It will be held in Richmond Indiana.

Hopefully we are all staying healthy through this pandemic. Can't wait to see everyone!

Until next time,
Ed Shaneyfelt
State President

CHAPLAIN'S CORNER

By Harlan Nigh

Hello Camp Family.

Well, February is upon us. And the days are starting to get more light. This is getting me ready to get the rig ready and organized for the new season.

I want to Barb Turner for keeping us updated on all that has been going on as we've in the off season.

Christine Lucas has been doing great through her treatments. I spoke with her and Richard. We're looking forward to a good adventure coming soon.

I would like to ask for prayers for Melvin and Nancy Coy. She's having some infection problems from her knee surgery. May it improve and mobility return.

Remember our "Sweethearts" this month and give plenty of hugs.

Until we meet at the campfires again, God Bless.

Harlan Nigh

dale, Michigan. The regional will be August 4-7. Let's all go up and represent Indiana at the Michigan regional. Mail your registration form in to John/Linda English so they know how many people to expect. That is a wonderful source of information when planning the regional.

Remember the retiree rally will be March 29-April 4 in Mineola, Texas and the Campvention will be July 8-15 in Pueblo, Colorado. See www.fcrv.org for more information on these events.

Until next time, stay warm and healthy.

Hello camping family!

The dark days of winter are upon us – boo! This is the most dreaded time of year for me. The dark, cold days weigh down on my shoulders like a heavy blanket wrapping me in what feels like a permanent need for a nap. It is so easy to focus on the downside and let it drag you down but every day we have to make a choice to move forward.

I am already dreaming of our coming camping season and marking off the days till winter is over! I like to spend winter doing a little extra deep cleaning. Its easy to pick a room or even an area at a time and really focus on it. There is no rush, no outside chores are calling my name, making it a great time of year to work on this task. This is a great way to declutter and setting small goals gets big results.

Macey and I have a bad habit of collecting cups, mugs, and tumblers. SO. MANY. CUPS. So periodically I must weed them down or the cabinet door won't close! As the seasons change focus on your winter clothes and take out what you didn't wear all winter. Don't forget to look at your shoes also. Keeping shoes you don't wear only takes up space!

Organize your pantry – check expiration dates and see what needs to be tossed or if it is in date and your family is not eating it, donate it! Before you know it, your house will be clean, and it will be camping season again!

Till we camp again,

Misty

It is time again to select those who will lead us through the next 3 years as Officers of the Indiana Association of Family Campers and RVers.

If you could consider yourself in a position that helps to shape the future of this organization, please contact Mark Shaneyfelt, nomination chairman at m.sshaneyfelt@yahoo.com.

Feel free to contact any of the current officers to get information about the duties of their job. Indiana FCRV needs YOU!!

Winter Storm Preparation

By Joe Boswell,
National DASAT Director

DASAT MOMENT

Looking out the window one can see the cold of winter is upon us. It is hard to realize “that winter storms can last for many days and include high winds, freezing rain, sleet or hail, heavy snowfall and extreme cold. These type of winter storms can and do shut down cities or other areas mainly due to blocked roadways and downed power lines. People may find themselves stranded I their care or trapped at home for several hours, and or for a few days.” With these storms other hazards exists as a result of this type of bad weather.

Sadly, “the leading cause of death during winter storms is automobile or other transportation accidents. The second leading cause of death is heart attacks. Hypothermia (or freezing to death) is the third cause of death-especially among the elderly who pass away inside their home because of lack of electricity or heat.” Overall, the best to protect yourself during the winter months is to plan ahead-the better you are prepared the better the outcome will be in the end. One easy way to prepare yourself, is to purchase items of necessity in the spring when they are on sale: for example: a blanket, or stock up on firewood for your wood stove or fireplace. This will save you some money and you will be prepared as well.

Let’s take a moment to review some very important terms used by many weather forecasters prior to the development of winter weather. Each term provides some type of descriptive details about a given winter weather condition that can disrupt you daily lives and presents itself with various types of dangers. The first, is freezing rain, this is rain that freezes upon impact when it hits the ground creating a coating of ice on the roads and the various walkways. Hail is created from rain the turns into ice while suspended and tossed about in the air from the violent updrafts of a thunderstorm. Rain that turns into ice pellets before reaching the ground is called sleet. A winter Weather Advisory is the prediction of col, ice and snow in the forecast. A winter Storm Watch means that severe weather such as heavy snow, or ice is possible within a day or two. Winter Storm Warning conditions will deteriorate, bringing severe weather, and conditions have begun or are about to begin. The all mighty, Blizzard Warnings-heavy snow is in the forecast, strong winds are possible producing blinding snow, zero visibility, and life threating wind child will occur for 3 hours or more. Thus, very dangerous condition will prevail. The last import term is Frost/Freeze warning, temperatures below freezing are expected. All of these terms are important and once they have been broadcast by the various weather authorities-take head and prepare yourself for the unexpected.

Here are a couple of things to keep in mind as winter storms approach.

- * Check your Family Emergency Plan Supplies and phone list. Is it up to date, and does it contain accurate information? If not, update, and make corrections as needed.
- * Prepare by purchasing calcium chloride, which is good for melting ice and snow on the sidewalks. Take note that “rock salt” can blister your concrete and kill your plants-so be careful when using this product. Sand or kitty litter is useful to improve traction.
- * Check you emergency heating source, do you have ample firewood stored in a dry place. Check your generator and sure it is good working order. A kerosene heater may be useful, but make sure it is safe to use in your community. NEVER use charcoal inside, it produces carbon dioxide and that is a killer. If you must use a charcoal grill-use it outside. Extra blankets are a good idea-they will help keep you warm and cozy.
- * If you find yourself going outside, dress to protect yourself from the cold. Put on layers of clothing. It is much better to wear several layers of loose-fitting lightweight, warm clothing that one heavy layer. Put on mittens and gloves to protect you hand from the bitter cold. A hat is a must, protect your head-this is where your body loses a lot of heat-so head gear is essential. A scarf is a handy item, it can cover you mouth and nose. Wrap the scarf around you neck and up over the ears, let the scarf cover you nose you will not breath in cold aid and hurt your lungs.
- * For those who like to go outside and clean off the sidewalks of snow and ice, remember to be careful-do not overwork yourself. This type of activity can over work you heart and cause a heart attack. This can happened to children, too.
- * Working or playing in the snow for long period of time with exposed skin can cause frostbite. This occurs when you loose feeling in your fingers, toes, nose or ears lobes, and or they become pale.
- * Hypothermia is a condition whereby the body starts to shiver a lot, your speech is slurred, you may stumble, or feel very tired. IF either one of the conditions exists-see medical help.

Prepare yourself. The more you know the better off you will be during the cold months of winter.
