So, the opening words on last month's article read: "We are getting closer to our camping season, hopefully our Indiana weather realizes that and straightens up also!" Well, I decided that Mother Nature was never hugged when she was a child! The snow this week was totally uncalled for.

The Retiree Rally was held in Mineola, Texas, last month and it appeared to have a pretty good turnout of members. I only saw a couple of Indiana members in the Facebook pictures.

I hope everyone read in last month's chatter to email John Stock at all12stock@aol.com if you are planning on attending the Spring campout. If he doesn't count you in, you may not get a walking taco! It really helps the planning of a campout if they know how many are attending. It only takes a second to send him an email. At the spring campout, Misty will discuss the coloring pages and poster contest for the youth/teens, conservation posters and essay contest. There is also information on all that on the fcrv.org website.

Make sure your reservations are made for all the upcoming State campouts. See the back page of the Chatter for dates and phone numbers. Also, the Great Lakes Regional will be in Hillsdale, Michigan, this year. Registration forms are available in this Chatter or online at www.fcrv.org. When making reservations, plan on attending the National Campvention in Pueblo, Colorado. It's not too late! If you are planning on attending Campvention this year, please send me an email and let me know.

The 2023 Campvention will be in Richmond, Indiana, so put that on your schedules for next year. July 9-15. If you have not been contacted regarding vol-

As I sit here writing this article, May is right around the corner, meaning that it's time to go camping. Hopefully everyone has their rigs unwinterized and ready to go. Remember to let John Stock know if you are attending the spring campout at all12stock@aol.com. It will help for them to know how many supplies to buy. Unfortunately, we will be in Alaska and missing a fun filled weekend. Have fun without us.

We will not have a quorum for the board meeting at the spring campout, so the trustees have decided to schedule a board meeting for Sunday, June 5 at 11 am at Johnson County Park. The board meeting is required since this is an election year for the officers. You can come and camp for the weekend or just drive in on Sunday for the board meeting. Look for Marilyn to send a mass email regarding this board meeting/campout.

Please think about hosting a campout with your club or by yourself for next year. None has been bid on for 2023 (we have a full schedule for 2022.)

Also, our region is hosting the 2023 National Campvention in Richmond, Indiana. We will need volunteers to help fill jobs. If you would like to help and haven't been approached yet contact Angie or me and we will let you know what jobs are still available.

Let Mark Shaneyfelt know if you are interested in running for an Indiana FCRV office. Look in this Chatter for more information from Mark article regarding the election.

Have fun camping this year and we will be thinking about the fun we missed while we are in Alaska

Until next time, Ed Shaneyfelt

CHAPLAIN'S CORNER

By Harlan Nigh

Hello Camp Family,

The Season Is Here ☺. The State Parks and other campgrounds have opened. We have started cleaning and stocking our rigs to get back to the woods to gather.

With the upswing in camping population, we should be ready to greet and invite people to the FCRV Family.

As we have all heard and the Bible teaches that there's strength in numbers. As we gather, I believe we bond.

I'm praying for all to be safe, and am looking forward to our fellowship again 🙏

Till we share a campfire,

God Bless 🙏 🙏 ☺

Welcome Spring! So glad to see the sunshine peeking around the corner! We are just a few short weeks away from our first camping trip of the season. I hope you have registered and let the hosts know you are coming. Brown County is full of interesting places to see and things to do.

Please let me know if you will be bringing any children or grandchildren so I can be completely prepared to work on our "Camping Is" posters for the National Campvention.

If you have been saving your tabs and bottle caps all winter, now is the time to pass them off to Patti & clear up some space at your house!

Till we camp again,
Misty

Time to schedule for the Fall Invitational

Hi there,

This is just a reminder that the Indiana FCRV Trustees are hosting the last campout (Fall Invitational) at Amishville on Sept. 30-Oct 2nd.

You can call now to make your reservations. They are not officially open till April 1st, so when you call you might get their answering machine. Leave your number and they will call you back. Let them know you are with FCRV and you would like to reserve your site.

We are going to be around the circle (inner and outer) so we can use the shelter house. the site numbers are 401 thru 434. Some of the sites are already reserved, so don't forget to call and reserve a site.

Look on the back page of the CHATTER to get phone number and address.

Hi there,

Hope that everyone had a great Easter and that the Easter Bunny found you.

This year was special since I have two new great grandsons and got to see both of them plus other family members.

So with that being said, I hope that every one got their rigs out of storage and are ready to go to the Spring camp out in May. If you have room in your unit and want to get rid of all the caps and tabs that you saved over the winter months, you can bring them with you.

I see that they are planning a walk, so don't forget to bring your walking shoes.

Hope to see you around the camp fire.

DASAT MOMENTBy Marilyn Rausch*

This past weekend, an incredibly sad and tragic event took the lives of two children, 8 and 9 years old, who were camping with their family in southern Indiana. As they were riding in their golf cart, a dead tree was toppled by the wind and fell on the cart, instantly killing them while their parents, driving the cart, were not injured. I cannot fathom the pain that their parents and others who loved them are feeling.

When we are camping, we are at the mercy of the weather. Sometimes there is nothing that we can do. But we can take precautions that lessen our chances of being injured or killed during severe weather events. Today we will focus primarily on wind events.

The National Weather Service (National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration) describes "High Wind Threats" in six levels.

- * Non-threatening (No discernable threat, sustained winds speeds considered "breezy")
- * Very low (Sustained wind speeds around 20 mph, gusts to 25-30 mph)
- * Low (Windy with sustained winds of 21-25 mph or gusts of 25-30 mph.)
- * Moderate (Very windy with sustained speeds of 26-39 mph or gusts of 35-57 mph..."wind advisory")
- * High (High wind with sustained speeds of 40-57 mph, High threat to life and property from high winds.)
- * Extreme (Damaging high wind with sustained speeds greater than 58 mph or frequent gusts greater than 58 mph. An extreme threat to life and property from high winds.)

In "High Wind" conditions, small branches break off trees and loose objects are blown about. Isolated occurrences of wind damage can happen to porches, carports, awnings, or pool enclosures. Isolated power outages may occur. Winds are considered very dangerous for high profile vehicles and for boaters on area lakes.

In "Damaging High Wind" conditions, wind damage occurs to unanchored mobile homes, porches, carports, awnings, pool enclosures and with some shingles blown from roofs. Large branches break off trees and weak or diseased trees may blow down. Loose objects are easily blown about and can become dangerous projectiles. Widely scattered power outages may occur. Winds are considered extremely dangerous for high profile vehicles and for boaters on area lakes.

The safest place during high winds is indoors. Postpone outdoor activities if a wind advisory or high wind warning has been issued. Campers, tents, and RVs are NOT safe in a wind storm.

Be wise in your choice of a camping site. Look for and avoid trees with dead or damaged branches. Before the need arises, identify sturdy buildings in which to seek shelter in case of dangerous weather conditions. If high winds are predicted, secure any awnings, dining tents, chairs, toys, or other objects that could be damaged or be made into projectiles by strong winds.

If you are caught outside during high winds, take cover next to or inside a building or sturdy shelter. Stand clear of roadways or train tracks, where gusts could actually blow you into the path of an oncoming vehicle. Make yourself as short as possible by squatting down or laying down on the ground. (Be aware that lightning can spread on the ground, so if it is lightning you should have as little contact with the ground as possible.)

Watch for flying debris. Tree limbs or dead trees may fall and street signs and building materials may be torn loose and become dangerous projectiles. Anything that is not secured to the ground (chairs, tables, planters, bikes or toys) can be picked up and tossed about.

Be aware of downed power lines and anything that those lines might be touching. Even puddles can conduct electricity. If someone is in contact with a downed power line, do not try to touch them...you will become a victim as well. If you are in a vehicle that is in contact with a power line, do not try to leave the vehicle and do not touch anything metal in the vehicle. If a fire starts, open the door without touching anything metal, and leap as far away from the vehicle as possible. Do not just step onto the ground.

If caught driving in a windstorm, keep both hands on the wheel and slow down. Watch for objects blowing across the roadway. Keep a safe distance from other vehicles. Trucks, vans, SUVs, Motor homes and trailers are especially prone to be pushed or flipped by the wind. If possible, pull off the road and stop away from trees or other tall objects.

Have access on your phone or on a weather radio your camper to local weather forecasts and bulletins issued by NOAA or local media. Heed all warnings!

"Known for some of the best bluegrass festivals in the country, the historic Bill Monroe Music Park & Campground is also one of the largest campgrounds in southern Indiana. The campground offers sites with water/electric, fire rings, picnic tables and is pet friendly. In addition to the camp sites, we have rustic and primitive cabins, 2 recreational campers and a home available to rent. There is a 5 acre lake for catch and release fishing only, NO SWIMMING. The park is located just 5 miles from the town of Nashville, Indiana. There are plenty of activities to keep you busy throughout the day - mountain biking, hiking, kayaking, fishing, shopping, dining, live entertainment and the largest park in Indiana - Brown County State Park."
