Spring Campout Memories

The picture memories on this page were gleaned from Facebook postings from those who attended. Thank you to the HAPPY GLAMPERS for providing what looks like a wonderful time!

From the State Director

Angie Shaneyfelt

It looks like a good time was had by all who attended the spring campout. I enjoyed seeing some pics on Facebook.

Sorry we couldn't make it, but on a side note, Alaska was amazing. The trip to and from is for another story in person. Ask me sometime about our flight out and return trip after disembarking our cruise ship. Those are some good stories!

It sounds like Ed and I are the only Indiana members planning on attending Campvention. It is going to be interesting to see how many will be able to attend with the crazy gas prices!

We hope to see many of you on June 3-5, 2022, for the trustee/board meeting weekend. Then plan on going to the Great Lakes Regional in Hillsdale, Michigan from Aug 3-7, 2022. Look for the registration form in this Chatter and mail it in today!

Also, August 19-21, 2022, is our summer campout at Cornerstone Campground, hosted by the Fireflies. I'm sure they are planning a fun weekend.

Then the Fall Invitational will be at Amishville Campground, Sept 30-Oct 1, 2, 2022. The trustees are looking forward to hosting you for this weekend.

Make sure you have all your reservations in so you won't miss out on the fun!

See you soon,
Angie Shaneyfelt
Indiana FCRV State Director

From the State President

Ed Shaneyfelt

Well, we made it home from Alaska. It was a beautiful trip that I would recommend to anyone to do and I would do again.

Don't forget that the board meeting is scheduled for June 5, 2022. Camping is happening June 3-5, 2022, at Johnson County Park that weekend. Then Nationals will be in Colorado July 10-15, 2022, and the Great Lakes Regional in Hillsdale, Michigan, August 3-7, 2022.

After that we have our Summer campout August 19-21, 2022, at Cornerstone Campground hosted by the Fireflies. I'm sure they are planning a great time. Then don't forget the Fall Invitational at Amishville campground September 30 through October 2, 2022, hosted by the Trustees.

From what I saw on Facebook, it looks like we missed a good time at the Spring campout hosted by the Happy Glampers. So, let's keep camping together and keep having fun.

Don't forget about next year's schedule (that we have no bids for) or if you are interested in helping at the Nationals in 2023 at Richmond, Indiana. Let Angie or me know so we can tell you what job opportunities are available.

Don't forget to send me an inventory list if you have any state equipment so we can decide if we need to keep it or sell it.

Until next time
Ed Shaneyfelt
State President

CHAPLAIN'S CORNER

By Harlan Nigh

Hello Camp Family.

The Season Is Here ☺. We had a good time and turn out at Brown County. Got to meet with Happy Glampers and make new friends as well as catch up with others.

My Fiancée make her first camping trip in over 35 years. It was her first RV trip and Lori is hooked. 👍 She loves the games food and fellowship.

I believe the season will great, and we look forward to making many more memories this year. Thanks to all for coming. With high fuel prices, we can still be Family with the Lord's Blessings.

Till the next Campfires, God Bless Y'all.

Hi there,

We had 6 people and three dogs walk with us on the camp walk at the Spring camp out. It was a fabulous weekend there. The rain held out until after Saturday evening activities were done.

I would like to thank everyone that brought caps and tabs to the camp out. And since we are on that subject, the caps that we save go to help make buddy benches for any one who would like to get one made. We have donated caps to the local schools here in Decatur, Indiana, and we are still collecting them for our own members too.

As for the pop tabs, they go to the Ronal McDonald House at Riley Hospital in Indianapolis. They help pay the room costs for families with children who are patients in the hospital.

See you around the camp fire!

Patti Thieme.

DASAT MOMENT

By Marilyn Rausch

Keeping an organized, decluttered home promotes safety and can help reduce your risk of fire hazards and trip and fall accidents on your property. Over time, it is easy to accumulate “stuff,” knick-knacks, papers, books, things that you “might need” in the future but have no use for at this time. You may find that you have things that you don’t even remember getting to start with (and sometimes don’t know what they were originally used for!)

Decluttering and organizing sounds easy. But making your home simpler isn’t always so simple. Decluttering can be a very time-consuming, overwhelming, physically draining and even an emotionally stressful experience, but it can be done.

First, it’s important to set realistic and healthy expectations. This will help put your stress at ease and cast away the overwhelming shadow of all your stuff piled up to the wayside.

- * Accept that all your projects are not going to get done in one day and maybe not even in one week. That’s okay!
- * Plan out your weekends and free time so that you get the most important projects done first, do one thing at a time, and don’t bite off more than you can chew to avoid feeling defeated. Little by little, every junk drawer and cluttered corner you go through will add up to big tidy results.
- * Find the motivation to get started by remembering that any action is still progress, no matter how small. Keep the “every little bit counts” mentality top of mind. Less is More, More or Less

To help you get started on your way to a more organized and decluttered home, here are some quick tips:

1. Grab two trash bags or boxes, one for trash and one for donations, and walk around your house to find at least 10 things that you no longer need. (Look for expired items in your kitchen, junk drawer items, storage closet chaos, old shoes or coats, old paperwork, etc.)

2. Tackle messy cabinets from the bathroom to the kitchen. Sort like things and put them away in their new home altogether, so extra toothbrushes are in one spot, and cleaning supplies are in another.

3. Get rid of old tattered linens and blankets. Often-times we accumulate so many of these over the years and they can take up a lot of space lying around the living room or in closets.

4. Organize your storage with sealable bins. Change out your winter clothes and holiday decorations with your summer clothes and toys from storage.

5. Get comfortable with the idea of parting ways with your stuff. It can be hard to say goodbye to things you own, even items you never use, forgot you had or don’t need.

The hardest things to part with are the ones with emotional attachments. Either you limit these items that you keep or accept that you’re okay parting ways with them. You may find that a photograph of an object will allow you to let go of the item while preserving the memories that go along with it.

Sometimes the concern is that someone else in the family might want some of the “heirloom” or other sentimental items. It never hurts to ask your children or others in the family if they want any of the items you no longer plan to keep. If the answer is yes...give it to them now. If no, dispose of the clutter so they won’t have to do it once you are gone! (They will thank you for that!!)

Once the clutter is under control, resist the urge to start reaccumulating, so you don’t have to repeat the process again in the future! You will find your home is safer and easier to manage. That gives you more time to go camping!!!
